November Council Meeting

Upper Hunter Shire Council's Ordinary Council Meeting this week delivered key outcomes across several significant initiatives for the community. Here are the highlights:

Annual Report Endorsed: Council adopted the 2023/2024 Annual Report, which outlines the Shire's achievements and progress over the past year. The report provides a detailed account of how Council delivered key projects, engaged with the community, and addressed the priorities outlined in its Community Strategic Plan. It also includes the 2023/2024 Annual Audited Financial Statements, highlighting how resources were managed to maintain services, fund essential projects, and support the Shire's long-term financial health. The published documents are now available on Council's website.

Scone Airport Development Project Progresses: Council resolved to proceed with completing the workshop at the Scone Airport, confirming its commitment to using local suppliers and Council labour. The Bellman hangar was deferred to the December Council meeting to allow for the preparation of a more detailed budget on earthworks, with a view to also engaging local suppliers and labour.

After extensive discussion, Council resolved not to proceed with the leaseable hangars, with the decision carried unanimously following a foreshadowed motion. Additionally, the General Manager was delegated authority to engage individual local contractors within the current project budget to deliver the approved scope of works.

Equine Centre of Excellence Business Case Tender Awarded: In a closed session, Council awarded the tender for the Equine Centre of Excellence business case and concept design to Spedding Torres and Associates for $337,590. This project will explore the potential for a world-class equine facility, focusing on community consultation, sustainable business planning, and preserving equine heritage. The proposed facility could position the Upper Hunter as a leading destination for equestrian activities.

Pony Club

It was hot and dusty, not only from the weather but also from the strong competition at the Zone 7 Jamboree held at the Muswellbrook Showground early in November. This was the end of year Grand Final you could say for the non horsey people reading this article, all clubs within our zone competed over two days trying to take home the array of trophies up for grabs. This was another successful event hosted by Aberdeen Pony Club seeing around 80 riders attending. Well done to each and every rider who came along and showed what great sportsmanship and pony club is all about.

The next event on our calendar is the end of year gathering and presentation to be held at the Denman Pool on the 8th of December. Keep an eye out on the Facebook page for details. The other important event is our AGM to be held the same day but in the evening at the Commercial Hotel Aberdeen starting at 6pm. New and old members are encouraged to come along put your hand up to help out and have a say about what you would like to see our club achieve next year. For more information check out our Facebook page or contact Amy 0428438108

This Year's Winner - The Bees

by Doctor Dirt

This is our final edition for 2024. I hope you all have an enjoyable Christmas and New Year, keep safe and be kind to each other. In line with celebrations of player of the year winners in various sports and other individual rewards. Let's celebrate the big stars. Voted in 2008 by the Royal Geographical Society and other scientific organisations and I think usually the number one hit in most years ever since are the Bees.

Bees are invaluable vital contributors to the earth, providing honey and other products humanity uses. This includes food, health products and other materials. Bees provide free pollination to over 250,000 flowering plant species. This free service increases the yield and is vital to over 90 prime crops, fruits and vegetables. They are essential for fiber crops such as cotton. Approximately 70 per cent of agriculture relies on these industrial insects to pollinate and produce higher yields.

Please remember there are over 20,000 bee species on earth. We are all familiar with European Honeybees, but there are so many other species. Australia has many different native species. Other animals, such as certain species of wasps, beetles, butterflies, possums, a few bat species, and a wide range of birds, assist in vital pollination activities. All these creatures are under threat. For bees like most creatures, there is a dramatic decline. This is due to a wide range of issues. They are in decline through pesticide usage on large scales, deforestation, monocultures, destruction of habitat and biodiversity, climate change (especially droughts, heat waves and wildfires) and the reduction of flowering plants and plants that flower at differing times of the year (in our landscapes).

In the past few years, the introduction of the Varroa Mite pest and its spread has placed considerable strain and financial costs on Beekeepers. It has also caused damage/reduction to bee numbers and in certain circumstances prevented movement of hives to assist in pollination to agricultural production areas. I do not want to go into details on this mite in this article. I suggest you seek information and talk to the Government Teams combatting the Varron Mite. If you wish, please read BeeAware Website and talk to Biosecurity experts.

So how can we individually help? Beaware of impacts, frugal application, and look at alternatives to the usage of insecticides. In your gardens and farms, value flowering plants, select a range of species that will flower at different times. I prefer the inclusion of a range of native plants, this will assist both European and Native Bees and a range of native fauna. I have several bee/bug hotels in my garden. These will provide homes and breeding sites. I have several insects including bees and wasps that pollinate our plants.

Christmas Message

The arrival of the warm weather in the Upper Hunter reminds us that Christmas is almost upon us. It's less than a month away now! The school year draws to a close and many people's thoughts focus on a chance for some rest and recreation. There's opportunity to think about the year ahead, to set new challenges and goals and, perhaps, to continue developing positive relationships. No matter how you celebrate, may this Christmas be an opportunity to appreciate the beauty in everyday life and also a chance to spread warmth and understanding to others.

However, Christmas may not be as broadly 'joyous' as some may think. For many, the season can be a time of isolation and loneliness. There are many people who live amongst us who will struggle to celebrate the season. If you know someone for whom this is true, why not invite them into your home, (not necessarily on Christmas day), to share some of the joy and 'glad tidings'.

No matter what you believe, at the heart of Christmas is a person. A bit over two thousand years ago a baby arrived in circumstances of extraordinary humility, in an unimportant town in an out-of-the-way corner of the then mighty Roman Empire. This child, named Jesus, (meaning 'God Saves') had long been promised to the people of the day. Arriving into a broken world this child would demonstrate God's grace poured out in a most unexpected way. He would show that true joy does not come from what we have, but from the love we share and the hope we place in him.

May you and all those who are close to you have a wonderful Christmas season and may 2025 bring you all that you desire.

Classic Winning Hook?

Was this the Hook that caught the award winning fish at the 1958 Glenbawn Fishing Classic?

For more than a year the Anchor (pictured) held pride and place in Taylor Park without a plaque indicating its origin. In that time it has intrigued many a passer by. There was speculation that the anchor was from Captain Cook's Endeavour, partly due to the naming of the "Captain Cook" amenities block. (Opened in 1970) Another wild piece of speculation was that it was the hook that snared the award winning fish in the 1958 Glenbawn Fishing Classic.

Recently a plaque was installed indicating that the anchor was to commemorate the Bi-Centenary 1788-1988, The Landing of Governor Phillip and The First Fleet's eleven ships, 26th January 1788. It's not certain the Anchor is off one of the First Fleet ships but one local resident says folk lore says it was. The show piece enhances Taylor Park's beauty and storyline of the district's past. Much of its current picturesque state can be attributed to a $100,000 dollar donation from Anglo America (Drayton Coal).

The Park's early history tells a story of community spirit, as reported in the Score Advocate of Tuesday November 24, 1970.

GRANDPARENTS' DAY MORNING TEA

We recently hosted the 2025 Grandparents' Day morning tea. It was wonderful to have so many grandies in the school all at once. After enjoying a picnic, families enjoyed games in the playground before reading together. I know this day meant a lot to the grandies and it's fair to say, that the students and staff loved it too. Thank you so much to all our grandparents and special people who made this year's event very special. Much gratitude to Audrey M. for catering.

ZOOPER DOOPER DAY

Our Zooper Dooper Day was a success with students enjoying 173 ice blocks and raising $173.00 for the Lions Club Childhood Cancer Research Foundation! Thank you to all our dads, stepdads, grandfathers, uncles, teachers and other special people who have participated in the school's Fathering Project this year. The best activity may have been saved for last so we didn't let a little hail storm stop us at APS. Thanks to Mrs Pennell, Miss Hewitt, Miss Regan and Mr Ramage for organising 'Aberdeen's Amazing Race' and also to ex-student Kash and the Scone High School B.A.L.L.E.R.S for your support and assistance. To be fair, it turned out as a race against the weather rather than the other teams, but it was a great afternoon.

THE FAIRYTALE BALL

On Wednesday 6th November members of the K-2 Kingdom attended the Fairytale Ball. After preparing some delicious treats to be shared, students enjoyed dancing, playing games and showing off their wonderful and glamorous costumes during the Ball. Students then filled their tummies with a feast fit for a king.

A huge thank you to Aberdeen Public School P&C for covering the cost of the Fairytale Ball, making it free for students and also to those who helped to decorate the kingdom and prepare the feast. A royal acknowledgment of gratitude is extended to our K-2 staff for organising this event and creating wonderful memories with their students.

Thank you to our hard-working P&C for securing sponsorship for both our K-1 and 2-6 Swimming Lessons.

CONGRATULATIONS TO OUR P&C CHRISTMAS RAFFLE WINNERS

1st - Aby T., 2nd - Alana Mc., 3rd - Tom B., 4th - Private, 5th - Aby T., 6th - Rebecca H., 7th - Roxanne S., 8th - Private

In planning for 2025 classes, we ask that any families who won't be returning in 2025 please notify the office as soon as possible.

If you know of any new families who may be considering Aberdeen PS in 2025, please ask them to contact the office on 02 6543 7271 to provide student details or complete an online enrolment form. Out of area enrolments will be considered for certain grades.

All of us at APS would like to wish everyone a very Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year and cannot wait to see all our students return on Thursday 6th February 2025.
